Introduction of the Conference:

There is a dire need to offer valued services in the Islamic Republic of Pakistan's education field. In this regard, hard work is required from early to higher levels of education. Along with educational institutions, seminars, conferences, and educational meetings are good ways to promote education. By applying these steps, Wah University is progressing in different fields gradually and providing society with educated manpower. Efforts are made to improve quality education by using the latest techniques and technology, and special attention is given to research. In this regard, like in previous years, the Islamic Studies Department will organize an international conference to promote Seerat un Nabi ﷺ. It will provide a platform for students, scholars, and educators to consider possibilities of promoting Seerah by using AI according to the needs of the modern age. It will provide the opportunity to understand the excellent living standards in the society acquired from Seerat. The objective of this conference is not only to promote education, development, justice, humane service, forbearance, good manners, and peace but also to discourage ignorance, injustice, prejudice, inhumane practices, terrorism, and cruelty. Moreover, it will help harmonize the activities of the new generation with the Seerah by using Artificial Intelligence and guide the young generation towards a future that will help them to serve the country and nation in a better way. By mixing new and old values, we can move forward to a future that will be a source of happiness for all. And this is possible only by following the Seerat un Nabi ﷺ
